Restaurants

Cliff Mark worked (wrote about beer, wine and spirits), ate and drank in the Saratoga area for most of this decade. The following are places that he has dined at:

Glens Falls

Bistro Tallulah - Date-worthy, moderately priced and eclectic

Siam Thai - Traditional asian cuisine, Sushi Bar, date worthy

Mikado - Hibachi Dinner, Sushi Bar, great for groups, call ahead for Hibachi reservations.

Davidson Brothers Brewpub - Good beer, good prices

There are a couple of Pizza Jerks (like the one at Killington) in the area

Common Roots/Mean Maxs - local brew pubs who have a wide variety of local restaurants who will deliver to the brewery, if your lucky, there may even be a stellar food truck parked outside.

Lake George

Adirondack Pub & Brewery (I87 exit 21) - World-class beers and decent food. Their seasonal beers are great. They also own the distillery next door

Saratoga

There are plenty of very high priced (over $100 pp before drinks and wine) restaurants. I've eaten at most of them, multiple times. Email me (clifmk@aol.com) if you are interested in any of them. A few are worthy of their prices. However, there are a few reasonably priced options

Hatties (I87 exit 15) - Southern and Cajun menu. Jasper's fried chicken bested Bobby Flay's. Moderately priced, very cool place

Lake Local (I87 exit 14) - My favorite hangout place. Small but well chosen beer selection. Well made cocktails. Small inexpensive menu. The food is very good. Outstanding view Druther's (I87 Exit 15) - World-class beer brewed by a "celebrity brewer". Much better than average brewpub food.

Forno Bistro (I87 exit 15) - Better than average Italian. Moderate prices.
